Augusta University, Department of Emergency Medicine Faculty Handbook

Research Committee

REASON FOR POLICY

Research is critical to The Department of Emergency Medicine. Research is priority within the department along with education and clinical service. The Emergency Department (ED) Research Committee along with the Research Director provides direct oversight and management of research conducted within the department. This oversight includes developing faculty research interests, meeting ACGME EM requirements for faculty as well as resident research requirements, and expanding funded research. These needs are critical for meeting not only national guidelines but also departmental and more importantly institutional goals and objectives.
